The Hopkins Society celebrates the poetry and life of Gerard Manley Hopkins. The Society organizes two events a year, usually in places associated with Hopkins. Our programme at these events includes lectures, poetry readings, visits and walks to places influential in Hopkins' life and work, as well as social opportunities over meals to share our love of Hopkins with one another. We also hold a number of online sessions throughout the year when members can select and read poems by Hopkins and other writers.

The Hopkins Society publishes an annual journal with articles by scholars, members and other Hopkins enthusiasts. It hosts an annual Hopkins Lecture, many of which have been published in the Society's Occasional Publication series. Recent visiting speakers include Professor Lesley Higgins, Professor Kelsey Thornton, Professor Jude Nixon, Dr Jane Wright and Dr Anna Nickerson.

Although we have an historic association with St Beuno's Jesuit Spirituality Centre in North Wales, where Hopkins spent some of his happiest times as a Jesuit, our membership and meetings span the UK.

We always welcome new members. For further information about the Hopkins Society, including forthcoming events, please visit our website:
